

Dreams

An on-going workshop | Course leader: Maggie McKenzie

Dreams are a way of talking to ourselves about ourselves, they offer us an experience of what has been lived, what is being lived and what is being formed for the future.

This experiential on-going group will teach ways of relating to dreams and how to integrate them into the fabric of our life.

The group will meet on four Monday mornings each term and requires participants to commit to a minimum of two terms and is limited to eight participants.

Dates for 2017 and 2018

September 4, October 9, November 6, November 27, 2017.

January 8, 29, February 26, March 19, April 16, May 14, June 4, 25, September 24, October 22, November 12, December 10, 2018.

Cost: £280 per term payable to Maggie McKenzie.

Register Interest

To register your interest on this group please contact Maggie through the website or through the Spectrum office.