

Intermediate Sexuality Group For Men

Personal development Workshop | Course leader Maggie McKenzie

In the intermediate group, we look at our sexual relationship with another, our relationship needs and patterns, who and how we are in the world as a sexual being, and how we are seen sexually.

This group is less structured than the basic group and, as well as looking at specific issues, develops its own character and issues to explore. This is a single gender group, is limited to ten participants and is open to those who have completed the basic group. Participants are expected to do about three hours homework a week for the duration of the group.
